The 2008 Innovation in Construction Awards are in process. Conducted by Remodeling News, this awards program spotlights innovative solutions to construction problems, from structural, to budgetary, to code-related, to design.

As a professional contractor you place tremendous demands upon yourself and your family to provide customers with high quality work. Satisfying homeowners' needs and desires is always challenging. At Remodeling News, we recognize that solving problems very often can be the difference that sets your work apart from the competition's. By tackling problems, contractors have an opportunity to demonstrate their skill.

Let us know what problems you've faced and how you solved them to the customer's satisfaction. We want to recognize you for your excellence in professionalism.

The Innovation in Construction Awards will provide winners with high-profile advertising and marketing opportunities for many years. Winners will be honored in a future issue of Remodeling News and with a handsome certificate suitable for hanging in the office or showroom. Reprints of the magazine article showcasing the winners will be provided for use as direct mail or leave behinds.
